SANDING DEMONSTRATION

Mr. Robert J. Cornelius, Jr. of Birmingham will be in Coffee County on March 11th to hold an open meeting on the use of a sanding machine and finishes for floors, either pine or hardwood. The meeting will begin at 9:30 and will be over at 3:30.

The meeting is scheduled to be held at the new home of Mrs. Charles Vaughan, about one mile out of Elba on the Elba-Victoria highway.

Any dealer in flooring and finishing material in the County is invited to the meeting. There can be no advertising of any product at the meeting. If a salesman is present at the meeting, it will be at invitation of the dealer who is responsible to see that he does not discuss his products.

An effort is being made to have representatives from every section of the county at this meeting.

MORE FARMERS PLANTING SERVICE FOR GRAZING AND SOIL CONSERVATION

More and more farmers in the County are planting service in order to save soil and provide grazing for livestock. Some of the farmers that are planting service this spring are Paul Warren, Adolph Sawyer, C. C. Sparks, Mack Aromur, Braxton Knight, Grover Watkins, Frank Jeter, Douglas Martin, W. E. Driggers, Dock Hudson, Wade Mison, W. L. Grimley, L. A. Boyd, III, L. B. McDermott Jr., T. L. Crumpler, Bruce Penell, Robert Dale, John Canley, S. D. LeCompte, Monroe Mynard, James Wise, Tom Findlay, Holland Collier and Sam Paschal.

These farmers are applying 400-500 pounds of 0-4-10 or its equal in potash and phosphate per acre. They are planting at least 30 pounds of service seed per acre well prepared land. The seed are sown just behind a weeder or cultipacker and left uncovered.

Service planting should be finished by the middle of March in Coffee County. The lighter the soil, the earlier the service seed should be planted. For more information see your soil conservationist.

BASKETBALL

ELBA CIRCLE ARROWS VS ENTERPRISE INDEPENDENT

Elba Gym Wed., March 9th 8:00 P. M.

The Enterprise Team has been greatly improved and a close game is expected. The last game of the Arrow Season.

Douglas has started a complete soil conservation program on his farm. He is terracing his land where needed, following peanuts with lupine, and fertilizing and seeding his pasture land. These are some of the necessary steps to control erosion and increase the farm income.

Gov. Isreal Pickens was hailed as the "spokesman of the plain people" during Alabama's early political era.

When General Lafayette visited Alabama in 1825, records reveal that the state spent more than $17,000 on his entertainment.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our thanks to the many friends and neighbors who were so good to us during the illness and death of our baby brother, Charles Howard Willis.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Revival services will be held at Elba Methodist Church beginning Sunday, March 20th, and will continue through Tuesday night, March 22nd. Rev. Robert J. Haske, of Phenix City, will be the evangelist.

Up until about 15 years ago he was one of the outstanding evangelists of the nation and was engaged in full time evangelistic work. Bro. Haske has held three pastorates, Richards Memorial church in Pensacola, Fla., Hartford Methodist church in Springfield, Mass., and Trinity Methodist church in Phenix City.

After serving four years in Phenix City, he was appointed District Superintendent of the Methodist church in Alabama.

Conference, where he made one of the outstanding records of the nation. This year the Trinity Methodist church in Alabama requested his return and he has been there as pastor.

A number of Elba people who have heard this eloquent preacher say he preaches the old-time gospel in the manner of the great preachers of a generation ago. He is fundamental in his beliefs and has been a great soul winner, serving as an instrument in God's hands to win countless thousands into the saving knowledge of Jesus Christ.

Time of services will be announced in next week's Clipper.

Methodist To Observe Layman's Day Sun.

H.D. Clubs Buy Recorder

The Coffee County Council of Home Demonstration clubs has recently purchased a recording outfit to be used in recording programs for the radio.

Recent efforts to get every home demonstration club in the County to participate in radio programs have failed due to the inability of the representatives of the clubs getting into the station at the hours needed. In the procedure to be followed now, the recording will be made at the club meeting for future use at the station on the Extension Hour.

Each club in the county is contributing to the cost of the machine.

The machine will be used in 4-H club work, as well as home visits by the Extension workers and special meetings as the rally Council meetings, etc.

Tough Guy Alan Ladd Is Law-Abiding Hero

Alan Ladd's many fans would probably be surprised that the star whom they think of as a delineator of lawless killers has been on the side of the law much more often in recent films than he has against it. Because so many of his portrayals have been of the tough ready-to-fight characters, fans seem still to associate him with the cold blooded psychopathic killer, Raven, his first screen hit, "This Gun for Hire."

But since that picture, which made him a star overnight, five years and thousands of feet of film have passed. It wasn't too long after he had established himself as a highly competent screen killer that Ladd turned honest hero. In "China" he was an oil salesman who joined the Chinese guerrillas to fight the Japs. He was a young doctor in "And Now Tomorrow." In "Two Years Before the Mast" he became a merchant marine fighting for the abused seamen. He was an American spy behind the German lines in O.S.S. and he fought smugglers and solved a murder in "Galeutta." In "Wild Harvest" he led a tough combine of wolf wheat harvesters and in the more recent "Salgon" he was an ex-Army pilot on a melodramatic mission.

Now comes Paramounts dramatic romance, "Beyond Glory" due Thursday and Friday Mar. 17 and 18, at the Elba Theatre in which he will be seen as a veteran who becomes a West Point cadet. It is a role definitely a different role from anything he has done so far, in that it offers a greater opportunity at dramatic interpretation than any of his other parts.

The film co-stars him with Donna Reed, who plays the young and attractive widow of Ladd's commanding officer whose death he believes he caused. Burdened by guilt, he confesses his part in her husband's death to Donna, but she refuses to believe him and urges him to seek an appointment to West Point.

When he is within sight of his graduation, he is called before an investigating committee on charges which, if proven, would disqualify both Ladd and West Point. How he is vindicated is said to provide absorbing and exciting entertainment for movie goers.

We do know that after dinner Zachaeus was a changed man. He was going to give back every dishonest penny, with interest; and since he could not locate every one he had cheated, he was going to give away half of his holdings for the benefit of the poor.

What Jericho needed was a new administration, an honest one; they needed a man, and Zachaeus was going to give it to them. But first of all Zachaeus had needed a new heart—and Jesus gave him that. Again it was the genuine signature of God.

We Too
ALL AROUND us is a troubled world. Some men, seeing it, infer there is no God. Others conclude that if there is one, he must be bad or weak. The truth is that the signature of God is not to be found in the evil and the confusion of the world. It is to be seen wherever freedom is standing against slavery, wherever truth is pushing back ignorance, where diseased bodies are being healed, where sanity replaces madness.

More people would believe in God if they could see more of the handwriting of God. Do you want to help?

We cannot always do things as simply as Jesus did. Curing the diseased is not for us a simple matter of saying, Be well. A Christian woman, distressed by what she had heard of the plight of the insane in her backward state, was asking the head of the state hospital (himself a church officer), "What can we Christians do?" "Get behind the legislature," he said.

DEVOTIONAL READING: Matthew 23: 23-28

God's Signature
Lesson for March 13, 1949

IN A STRANGE city you may suddenly need to be identified. Some suspicious clerk wants to know if your signature is genuine. It is a fair challenge, for too many liars are in circulation. Jesus himself had to furnish identification. No less a person than his old friend John the Baptist had grown uneasy. Are you the One we are looking for, he inquired, "or shall we look some one else?" Jesus' answer to John was not to discuss the theology of the Incarnation, or anything of that sort. He just went about his usual day's work.

In the course of that day he cured a good many sick people, and preached to some very poor people. "Now go back," he said, "go back and tell John what you have seen and heard." What those men saw that day was what Jesus at another time called the "finger of God," the genuine divine signature.

Jesus wrote no book, no letters even; he wrote in action, and his acts were the handwriting of God. It is a role definitely a different role from anything he has done so far, in that it offers a greater opportunity at dramatic interpretation than any of his other parts.

What he asked John to notice was simply this: the blind see, the lame walk, lepers are cured, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and (as a climax) the poor hear good news. The signature of God, in short, is not sheer power; it is using what power one has, to help people in trouble. That was the sort of person Jesus was.

Not By Bread Alone
"THE EXPRESSION," "needy people," nowadays suggests people who haven't enough to eat or wear. Jesus helped such persons; he knew well that men's needs go beyond well-worn for bodies. There was the poor man from the grave yard, for example—he was happy enough. He didn't want clothes, and he was strong enough to steal all the food he could eat. All he wanted, in fact, was to be let alone. But Jesus knew that what he needed above all was a sane mind, a mind no longer run over and trampled by a regiment of devils.

When Jesus got through with him he was clothed, but that was not the best part of it. He was in his right mind. So God's signature is not only written in a sound body, it is in the sound mind. Again, at Jericho when Jesus invited himself to dinner with that pious sycophant, Zachaeus, Jesus did not go just for the meal. He went because he knew that Zachaeus needed some thing.

What Jericho needed was a new administration, an honest one; they needed a man, and Zachaeus was going to give it to them. But first of all Zachaeus had needed a new heart—and Jesus gave him that. Again it was the genuine signature of God.

We Too
ALL AROUND us is a troubled world. Some men, seeing it, infer there is no God. Others conclude that if there is one, he must be bad or weak. The truth is that the signature of God is not to be found in the evil and the confusion of the world. BUY CHICKS NOW AND GET AN EARLY START
If chicks have not been started, they should be at the earliest possible date advises John Weeks API extension service poultryman.

In selecting a breed, stick to the old standbys. They are: Rhode Island Reds, New Hampshire, Barred Rocks, and White Leghorns. These birds have been found most profitable. Also when buying chicks, remember that the strain is as important as the breed.

Don't be tempted by cheap prices or fancy advertising. It doesn't pay to buy cheap chicks. Weeks recommends that three "straight run" chicks be bought for each pullet expected to be housed next fall. Half should be pullets of which 90 per cent will live. Naturally there will be a few pullets to cull before moving the birds to the laying house.

In buying chicks to be raised for egg production, get U. S. AIA. Certified Pulverum Cuckoo chicks. Have everything ready for the chicks before they arrive. The brooders should be in operation at least 24 hours beforehand.

FENCE POSTS
Timber for fence posts can be obtained from thinning young stands of timber, clearing pasture or cropland, and removing undesirable timber from woodlands. To control decay of fence posts, use an oil base preservative such as five percent pentachlorophenol or coal-tar creosote mixed with kerosene, distillate, fuel oil, or diesel oil.

"Mrs. Branton is on the university board," Ben was saying. "It's like this house we'll have a good chance at the university's new chapel."

"See that thousand-foot tower? I'll jump off of it, landing on my head on that cement block underneath it."

"Go away," the manager said. "I'm too busy to bother with lunatics."

But a few minutes later someone screamed and, looking up, he saw the man on the tower, preparing to jump.

"Don't do it!" yelled the manager. "This is what I mean," came the faint answer—and a moment later the little man tumbled downward, hitting the block head first. After a moment he picked himself up, shook his head, and started to walk away.

The manager ran to him and grabbed his arm. "That's a wonderful act. You're engaged."

"I've changed my mind."

"But you've got to sign!" the manager howled. "You're sensational! I'll give you five hundred a week."

"No."

"But you offered me the act!"

"Well," said the little man, rubbing his forehead, "you see, that was the first time I ever tried it, and it gave me a bit of a head ache."

THOUGHTLESS

When she said, "How wonderful, how clever of you to think of that," he beamed at her.

top of the hill. That cuts out the hill problem and the house gets a breeze. You have a level stretch—

"Okay," shouted Ben, "but I'll wager Branton won't think so. The door banged on him."

She'd lost him. A fog of misery closed over her. She tried to tell herself that if she couldn't have Ben on an honest basis, she didn't want him. That didn't help. It wasn't true. She wished she'd lied and gulped.

He phoned her. "Branton is crazy about my idea."

Meddling

Willie," said his mother, "I wish you would run across the street and see how old Mrs. Brown is this morning."

A few minutes later Willie returned and reported:

"Mrs. Brown says it's none of your business how old she is."

Braggart

"Say there, Jinks," roared the Top Sergeant, "why weren't you out this morning?"

"Because," replied the quaking private, "I threw my snide out of joint last night."

Sergeant. "I've turned out for drill after having my whole body thrown out of half a dozen joints!"

TWO FOR DOC

"Doctor," said the patient. "I'm afraid my wife is going crazy."

"What seems wrong?" asked the doctor.

"Artists are always crazy," she retorted, blinking back tears. Ben's step behind her was a surprise. She hadn't expected him to come back to the office that night.

"Congratulations," she said, without turning her head, and felt two hands firm on her shoulders.

"For being a dope?" Anne asked. "For being a dope?" Anne asked.

"Don't Branton?" Anne began, dazed.

Ben turned her around and grinned down at her. "Mrs. Branton picked the house on top of the hill," he explained. "She said, 'My husband hasn't a practical bone in his head.' Will you say that about me some day? We make a swell team, honey. What do you say?"

Anne didn't say anything for Ben's lips, warm and firm, were on hers.

W. M. S. OBSERVES WEEK OF PRAYER FOR HOME MISSIONS

The W. M. S. of the Baptist church of New Brockton met at the church each day last week with an all day meeting in observance of Week of Prayer for Home Missions.

The theme for the week was "Committed Unto Us." The subject for Monday was "The Gospel Committed Unto Us." On Monday the Intermediate and Junior G. A. C. members, Mrs. Ralph Herring and Mrs. J. H. Dykes brought the girls before the assembly. They very impressively presented the Star Ideals and Special music.

The Tuesday subject was "The Gospel Committed Unto Us." The Wednesday subject was "The Gospel Committed Unto Us." The Thursday subject, "The Gospel Committed Unto Us for Necessity," was held upon us. Friday, "Our Prayers and our money committed unto God."

There was a good average attendance and a worthy offering made for Home Missions.

Pittman, Claude Sawyer, W. H. Sawyer and J. H. Dykes.

Mrs. Robert Hayes spent last week in Montgomery as guest of her sister, Mrs. Godbold and her mother, Mrs. Pilcher.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Boyette visited Mr. Alton Boyette in an Andalusia hospital Sunday.

W. S. C. S. MEETS MONDAY

The Women's Society of Christian Service met at the church Monday afternoon with the president, Mrs. G. C. Hudson in charge.

"More Love To Thee" was used as an opening hymn. Mrs. J. A. Brock led the opening prayer.

Mrs. G. C. Hudson directed the Bible study from the 5th and 6th chapters of Matthew.

The meeting was closed with the W. S. C. S. benediction.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Sawyer and son visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kelley in Enterprise Sunday.

People, Spots In The News

FACES MAKE NEWS this week. Pretty ones help focus attention on new automotive beauties, as this shot of the "new look" Crosley's hood, draped with Cindy Lou Hayes and Ellen Eberhart, proves.

FUNNY FACES are made by two naval reservists on Caribbean cruise, clowning a be-my-valentine "smooch" and in asbestos suits that let them walk through fire.

DISARRANGED FACES featured amateur boxing courtesy at Lowell, Mass., when scowling Howard Walker glommed Glen Wright's kisser temporarily top-sided. Vep, Walker won.

KINSTON NEWS

W. M. S. MEETS MONDAY

The W. M. S. of the Kinston Baptist Church met Monday afternoon at the church for the regular monthly meeting.

Following a business session with Mrs. Mathews presiding, the program was presented with Mrs. Robert Wise in charge.

Those taking part on the program were Mrs. G. W. Clark, Mrs. Jessie Mathews, Mrs. B. L. Perry, Mrs. J. A. Foster, Mrs. Ernie Cain and Mrs. Kim Coon.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Morrow and family, of Laurel Hill, Fla., were Sunday guests of Mrs. M. D. Rigby.

SLAPSTICK

Fair Warning

LADIES and gentlemen," said the guide, "I have now conducted you over all the show rooms of this ancient and historic castle except this last room which we are entering. Ladies and gentlemen, this room is known as the Small Porch."

Gallery. It contains only three portraits. This ill-favored old gentleman is the second Count Ferdinand, who lived in the early part of the 16th century and was nicknamed the Miser. This is the Lady Jocelyn, early 17th century. She is said to have died from blood-poisoning caused by a scratch in the face from a starving peasant woman to whom she refused to give a crust of bread. And, lastly, this is the portrait of the Countess Anselme who was murdered because of her avarice. And now, ladies and gentlemen, may I crave permission to remind you that it is customary on these occasions to take up a little collection for the guide. Thank you, ladies and gentlemen!"

MIGHTY MAN

Teacher: "Who was Homer?"

Pupil: "He was the man who made Babe Ruth famous."

Target

"Did you strike this man in an excess of irritability?"

"No, sir, I struck him on the nose."

BRIEF ENOUGH

The young reporter had been told over and over again that his stories were too long, too windy and that he must cut to bare essentials. So his next story came out this way:—

"J. Smith looked up the shaft at the Palace Hotel this morning to see if the lift was on its way down. It was. Aged forty-five."

WASTED EFFORT

A man arrived home in the small hours of the morning and, having a wholesome fear of his wife, decided to proceed with caution.

Taking off his boots, he crept noiselessly upstairs, stealthily opened the bedroom door, and, with the greatest care, crawled into bed. With a sigh of relief he went off to sleep.

In the morning he looked round for his wife, and suddenly remembered she had been staying with an aunt for the past fortnight.

Royal Decision

"No," said the employer, sternly. "I will not do it! Never have I sold anything by false representation, and I will not begin now."

For a moment he was silent; and the assistant who stood before him could see that the better nature of his employer was fighting strongly for the right.

"No," repeated the employer. "I will not do it! It is an inferior grade of shoe, and I will never pass it off as anything better. Mark it 'A Shoe Fit for a Queen' and put it in the window—a queen does not have to do much walking."

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Williams (Marilyn Richardson), Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Blawie (Nellie Richardson), and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Shoemaker, of Pensacola, Fla., Mr. N. W. Culpepper and Mrs. Mary Culpepper, Coffee Springs, Mrs. Harold Holland, Gadsden; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hargrave and family, of Greenville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. Q. Richardson during the week-end.

Mrs. J. A. Foster spent the week-end in Brewton as guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Childers.

Mr. Edsel Thomason, of API, Auburn, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Thomason.

Mr. Foster Fuller, of Mobile, and Mr. Lodian Fuller, of Alabama, were week-end guests of friends and relatives here. Mr. Foster Fuller filled the pulpit at the Baptist church for the Rev. Floyd McLeod Sunday night.

Mrs. R. E. Williams, Sr. accompanied by Mrs. B. B. Lee and daughter, Janie, of Opp, are spending some time in Cullman with Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Williams, Jr. and Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Williams.

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Sutherland were called to Paducah, Ky. last week because of the illness and death of Mrs. Sutherland's brother, Mr. Lube Tyree.

Sgt. and Mrs. Jimmie Bahl, of Eglin Field, Fla., spent the week-end with Mrs. Bahl's mother, Mrs. A. J. Ward.

Uncle Natchel's FERTILIZER TALK

"One of our neighbor farmers usually puts about 150 pounds of Chilean Soda on his oats for top-dressing. Last spring he hauled it to the field in a wagon. Wherever he stop to fill the distributor, some of the Soda spilled on the ground.

"All season long, those spots where the wagon done stood look greener and grewed thicker than the rest of the field. The farmer figured that every place he stop mus'a got about 100 pound of Soda an acre and made twice as much oats. He told me, 'I should'a parked that wagon all over the field!'"

About People and Things

Slips One Over On Brother Ran

In last week's Clipper this column announced that the McCollough brothers, Ran and Math, made a trip to Umatilla, Fla., for the purpose of visiting relatives and obtaining a large amount of white seed cane.

It has since developed that Brother Math was playing dumb like a fox and was pulling a can trick on Brother Ran and talked him into making the trip to Fla. for sinister purposes of his own. Ran said they got the cane all O. K. and are well satisfied with it, but he is now convinced that the cane angle was only a minor consideration as far as his brother Math was concerned.

Ran said he received a wire Tuesday evening to meet Mrs. Mary O'Neal, of Umatilla, Fla., at Troy, as per instructions she had received from Mr. Math McCollough. Ran performed his brotherly obligation and met the lady as requested.

On Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the courthouse at Troy Mr. Math McCollough, of Elba Route 1, and Mrs. Mary O'Neal, of Umatilla, Fla., were happily married. Probate Judge Alex Brantley performed the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. McCollough will reside in the McCollough home north of Elba.

Body Of Louie A. Hodges Reburied At Damascus

Funeral services for Louie A. Hodges, son of Henry Hodges and Mrs. Lula Mae Hodges, of Damascus community, formerly of Geneva, were held Wednesday afternoon, March 16 at 2 o'clock at Fairview church, conducted by Rev. Powell and Rev. Bradley. He was born in Geneva county, August 30, 1929 and died while serving in the U. S. Army in Japan.

City Water Goes To Farm

When Tip Blocker, who lives on the J. D. Smith farm on the Brantley highway near Evergreen cemetery, turned on city water at his home and discarded the long used pump, it was a long step in city expansion. Mr. Blocker's son didn't know what to think about it and asked if the old reliable pump could be dispensed with—If the pipe water would be fit to drink.

Mr. Smith said if anyone had suggested a few years ago that someday city water would be piped to his farm, he would have thought it unreasonable. But now patrons along the Brantley road are being supplied to the new housing project of Wise and Richburg, Inc. Elba's water system has greatly expanded within the past year and the end is not yet.

Yellow Front

The Murphree grocery store looks exceedingly green in its new coat of yellow paint on the front and the interior fixtures in glistening white. The elder Mr. Murphree and his younger son were discussing the color of the front, being undecided just what color it was, when Boyd Murphree, manager, remarked, "Don't you gentlemen know yellow when you see it?" He said, however, there is nothing yellow about the new management or the store personnel.

Pronounced "Not Cancer"

Mr. Dave Vaughan has been plagued with numerous false scares for several months and one near his ear became so painful he feared it might be cancer. He made a trip to Atlanta where he underwent an examination, and the surgeon told him he did not have cancer, but if the ulcerous sores were allowed to run too long they might develop into cancer.

Going To Atlanta

W. F. Porter visited Veterans hospital in Montgomery Monday for the purpose of having an examination of a cancerous growth on his arm. The doctor told him the hospital was too crowded at the present and advised him to have a local doctor treat the offending ailment. Mr. Porter says he is not satisfied with his trip to Montgomery and intends to go to Atlanta and consult Dr. Shantz, who has treated him on other occasions.

The Elba Singing Society

The Elba Singing Society held one of its best sings at the Elba Baptist church Sunday afternoon.
